Happy Harvest Plant Supports, set of 3 35", 47" & 59"

Fun and colorful Happy Harvest Plant Supports are customizable, so you can size them to fit your plants and adjust them as your plants grow. Each support consists of three plastic-coated steel uprights plus snap-in-place plastic crosspieces.

Assembly and Use

Happy Harvest Plant Supports come with black connectors holding all the pieces together. Remove the black connectors by unsnapping them from the support pieces. NOTE: The black connectors are no longer needed, but we recommend you keep them to help with storage during the off season.

Arrange three uprights so the pointed ends are facing the same direction.

Snap the crosspieces onto the uprights, arranging them evenly around the support. NOTE: There are three slots at the ends of each crosspiece, which allow you to create supports of different widths. For example, use the end slots to create the widest support. The crosspieces slide up and down the uprights, so you can easily adjust their placement after installing the supports.

Once all the crosspieces are in place, your support is ready to install. Place the support over the plant so the pointed ends of the uprights are facing down, and push the uprights 7"-10" into the ground.

During the growing season, slide the crosspieces up and down to customize the support. You can also remove and replace them to gather up wayward stems.

At the end of your season, remove any plant material from the Happy Harvest Plant Supports, rinse them off, and store them in a location protected from winter weather.
